Call for Special Session Proposals

We are soliciting proposals for special sessions within the general scope of UPCON 2022. The special sessions will take place from 2-4 December, 2022 at the same venue as the main conference. It should complement the main technical program and serve to broaden the technical scope of the conference in emerging areas. Special sessions aiming to give a comprehensive overview of a specific topic related to the conference theme, “AI Everywhere To Everyone” are particularly welcome. The special session topic should be of sufficient significance and importance to attract interest from the researchers and practitioners from both academia and industry. We encourage the prospective special session organizers to submit well-planned proposals that are specific and detailed in justifying relevance and viability.
